Review of the Past Week-The General Outlook Rather Encouraging.

STREET GOSSIP.

New York, May 5.—The remarkable change in the executive management of the New York Central Lake Shore, and Missouri Central railways created a great sensation among the operators up town last evening. Mr. Vanderbilt said to a friend, it was reported, that he had 50,000 shares of New York Central stock left, which was in one certificate, and if he was to have his way in the future running of the property he would see that the West Shore did not earn the interest on its bonds. He had long intended retiring, however, from the management, but retiring, however, from the management, but he never intimated the fact to even his own sons until a week ago and he did not tell his wifs until 2 p. m. yesterday. With reference to the effect upon these stocks he did not think they would be depressed, but George J. Dickinson told him he would soil him 2.000 New York Central at 1224, and he could pay for them on his return from Europe. The hears were in high glee over the situation, and were looking for lower prices all around during the morning. Cammack said New York Central would sell at lower prices all around during the morning. Cammack said New York Central would sell at 120 before night. The Mills party also belived that the Vanderbilts would go lower. There was some talk last evening about the singular manipulation of New York Central stock late in the day yesterday in the board. Quigley bargained for 5,000 shares at 1237, which was sold by Phil Minis; but Quigley claimed that he added to his bid the proposition to take 5,000 shares more to day at the tion to take 5,000 shares more to-day at the same price. Consequently he did not take the stock, and Minis continued to sell stock down to 1231. down to 1925.

It was repried that the American Express company had been selling treasury stock, and the stock now in circulation was about fifteen millions. The authorized capital of the commillions. The authorized capital of the company is about eighteen millions. The only actual transaction made in tooks last evening was 1,000 shares of Lake Shore by Hughes to Hollins at 110. Conservative operators believe the old Vanderbilt stock would be sustained against attacks this morning, and the fact that the fact that the younger Vanderbilts will still control the roads, being chairmen of the advisory committees, gave very general satisfaction. It is reported in good authority that D. O. Mills is a very large owner of West Shore bonds.

West Shore bonds.

New York Central opened excited, and prices varied 2 on either side of the crowd on the opening. It was said there were supporting orders in the market from the Vanderbilt party. The largest buyers of New York Central were Coombs, who bought 3,000, covering shorts, and Herrick, Chapman, and Kirkner, who were both buyers and sellers. The other sellers were Scraaton, Willard, Enos, Godet & Co., and Savin. Coombs offered to bet $500 that the New York Central would not reduce dividends this year.

London closing cubles reported that Amarican railways were very irregular at the ond. New York Central advanced; but the American quotations had not yet been received.

New York Central advanced 2, but the American quotations had not yet been received. Government bonds were weaker this morning on account of the passage of the savings bank bill. Four's declined to '1192'. New York Central stocks lends flat to 1-64, the general lending rate is 3. Encs & Co. sold about 3,000 shares of New York Central this morning. Post & Wales and Davis & Menis bought largely.

largely.

A Philadelphia telegram says: London has bought about 15,000 shares of Pennsylvania bought stock in that market since Wednes-Central stock in that market since Wednesday. The Reading company has called for three millions more funds from subscribers to the deferred bonds or the amount already paid will be forfeited.

REVIEW.

The market opened very feverish and excited for the Vanderbilt stocks, but the remainder of the list was not much affected thereby. New York Central opened 1t lower and Lake Shore i down, but there were large sustaining orders in these stocks, and each of them rallied i to i per cent. soon after, Stocks loaned at 3 to 4 and money on call at 3j. Government bonds were weak on account of the new law which permits savings banks to buy any good railway stock for in vestment. of the new law which permits savings banks to buy any good railway stock for investment. Sterling is unchanged and dull. On the second call the market was dull and a shade firmer, especially for the Vanderbilts. New York Central was active up to 122‡, offered at 121‡, seller 60, and sold at this price. The regular price was 22‡ to ‡. Lake Shore was heavy and declined to 110‡, and Canada Pacific reacted to 64 at 2:30. The market is selling off ‡ to ½ all around. The market closed weak and dull, without any special feature.

Wall street has been very dull during the last week, and there is but little legitimate speculation.

The outside buyers know that so much depends on this year's crop that it would be sangerous either to buy or sell stocks pend-ing the ascertainment of positive information. ing the ascertainment of positive information. The confidence in good crops and continued prosperity from the whole country is very strong. Each day now brings forth good crop reports, which assures heavy tonnage for all railways and general prosperity. The backward spring has had a depressing influence on the retail dry goods business, and it is feared that many large houses will be compelled to carry their stock over another year. One strong point in finances is that all the pelled to carry their stock over another year.

One strong point in finances is that all the new railway loans now offered are being readily taken up by the public investors.
The heavy advance last week in West Shore bonds was a very strong feature in the market, and it looks as though the public were beginning to see that this road would be a strong competitor to the New York Central, which road for years has occupied an exclusive position on the Hudson by reason of the very large capital required to build a competing line. The West Shore road now seems to have all the capital required, and although the road is bonded for over one hundred thousand dellars per mile, the bonds bearing only five per cent, interest, have advanced from 75 five per cent, interest, have advanced from 75 to 82 within a very short time. This read will parallel the New York Central from New York to Buffalo. The decline in New York Central has been one of the features of the Central has been one of the features of the stock exchange. The rumors were very thick during the week about reduction of divideud, the ill health of Mr. Vanderbilt, &c., but conservative room traders think the decline was due to the favorable position of the West Shore road. New Jersey Central has been well sustained by reason of the application of the receiver to return the road to the stockholders.

Money on call is about 5 per cent. The Money on call is about 5 per cent. The foreign trade-continues very favorable to us, and when compared with last year shows a continued improvement. The balance of trade in our favor for the first quarter of 1883 is $51,000,000, against a deficit last year of $245,000. The exports of grain and cotton continues very large.

THE BAILWAY DIFFICULTY. The Capitol, North O Street and South Washington Railway company Saturday filed an ex parte petition in the supreme court of the district praying the court to adjust the terms under which the company may use certain tracks of the Metropolitan Railway company on Ninth street from Louisiana avenue to E street northwest. The petition states that the charter of the Belt Line company gives them the right, where their tracks coincide with the track of another road, to use such tracks, and in case of a failure to agree on the terms for the use of such tracks, they may asks if the holder of 10 per cent. assessment certificates can use such certificates in the payment of special assessments not held by the sinking fund. The engineer commis-sioner, to whom this was referred, states in his indersement that the certificates of assessment referred to are no longer worth their face value because of the reduction of the assessments by revision. Under existing law the difference can be made good by drawback for the difference without interest. This proposition to make the certificates receivable at face value, accrued interest, is evidently in osition to make the certaincates receivable at face value, accrued interest, is evidently in-tended as a round-about way of getting over the legal difficulty in the way of getting the interest. It seems hardly advisable to issue such an order as requested. The party inter-ested was therefore informed that these cer-tificates cented by received in payment of satificates cannot be received in payment of as-sessments due to other outstanding lien cer-tificates.

An Incident In Busy Broadway. New York Tribune.

Loungers in Broadway had an opportunity see a rather novel and unique sight yesterday afternoon. A well dressed woman in silks, afternoon. A well dressed woman in silks, satin and camel's hair stepped out of her coupe just above Union square and passed into a well known store. The coachman, dressed in fashionable livery throughout, held his whip in the usual aesthetic manner of coachmen, and kept his eyes fixed immovably on the horse's cars. Neither the horse nor the cab nor the driver moved a muscle. Presently the well dressed woman came out of the store bearing in her hand a of the store bearing in her hand a goblet of ice cream sods and made her way through the crowd of pedestrians always in through the crowd of pedestrians always in Broadway late in the afternoon, and stepping up to the coachman handed him the glass and a teaspoon with which to cat the contents thereof. Then the woman returned to the store, and having secured a duplicate for herself, calmiy and heroically ate it. Meantime the coachman, holding his whip, reins, and spoon in one hand, and the glass in the other, ate his ice cream soda as though he liked it, and peeple walking by looked, stared, seemed and people walking by looked, stared, seemed amazed, and turning around walked by the cab again to see if their eyes had not deceived them. The woman, having slacked her thirst, came out, took the coachman's empty glass, returned it, and paying for both, came out, and getting into her cab was driven away. An Editor's Testimontal. A. M. Vaughan, editor of the Greenwich Review, Greenwich, Ohio, writes: "Last Janu-
